

Accredited Safer Recruitment training and workshop

With the effects of not following Safer Recruitment well known throughout the education sector, through cases like Ian Huntley, William Vahey and Vanessa George et al, it is vital that recruitment teams in the sector, receive regular training from approved trainers, through the Safer Recruitment Consortium.

At FusionHR, our accredited Safer Recruitment trainers have extensive experience in education and have seen first hand how the failings of poor recruitment and vetting can impact schools.

With a responsibility on schools to have Safer Recruitment practices in place, our team provide essential virtual training, in a workshop style, allowing for open discussions on best practice and sharing experiences from other education leaders.

Our training covers:

- Real-life case studies: Understand the consequences of recruitment failures
- Interactive workshops: Develop practical skills to strengthen your processes
- Expert guidance: Learn from experienced professionals on the requirements stipulated by the Safer Recruitment Consortium
- Up-to-date information: KCSiE updates
